Stewart-Everage Vows Repeated In Hickman

In an impressive double-ring July ceremony performed by Father William Field, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Hickman, Miss Anna Marie Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Stewart of Hickman, became the bride of Cpl. Ronald E. Everage, son of Mrs. Selma Traffanti of Claxton, Ga., and Herman Everage of Birmingham, Ala.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in an ankle-length gown of white satin with long white Chantilly lace sleeves, which ended in lily points at the wrist. It featured a rounded classic neckline, trimmed with white lace flower medallions and matching lace medallions, surrounding the front hemline which tapered to meet the detachable train flowing from the softly pleated waistline, with self matching bow. It was designed and made by Mrs. Thomas Sarrett. Her only jewelry was a single pearl pendant, the gift from the groom. Her veil of illusion, the "something borrowed" from her cousin, Mrs.

Jerry Graham, was secured to a cluster of butterflies accented with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations outlined with pink rosebuds, surrounded by white lace and pink streamers, tied in love knots.

Miss Priscilla Elam of Memphis, former co-worker and roommate of the bride, served as maid of honor. Misses Mary Christina and Jeanette Clare Griswold, cousins of the bride, also of Memphis, served as bridesmaids. They each wore identical pink summer satin sleeveless gowns with low cut, rounded neckline with softly pleated skirt and matching self detachable bow. They carried matching nosegays of pink and white carnations surrounded by white lace with pink and white ribbon streamers tied in love knots. Their headpieces were of shoulder-length pink net, topped by matching soft pink crepe roses.

Wayne Shuppe of Memphis served as best man for the groom. Philip Griswold, also of Memphis, cousin of the bride, and John S. Bacon II of Hickman served as ushers and groomsmen.

Cpl. and Mrs. Ronald R. Everage

Mrs. Paul Stahr presented a program of nuptial music, preceding and during the wedding.

Miss Helen Griswold, cousin of the bride, attired in a white lace gown of soft pink with matching headpiece, served as flower girl. She carried a white mesh basket of pink and white carnations, from which she strewed the petals along the snow white aisle carpet, preceding the bride to the altar.

The couple pledged their vows before an altar banked with urns of green palms, two vases of white gladioli and greenery, flanked with two seven-tiered wrought iron candelabra complemented with white stephanotis and holding tall white tapers. The altar rail was decorated with ivy and white stephanotis on white background. They knelt on a black wrought iron prie-dieu with white plush trim, for the wedding blessing. Each window and the organ was decorated with ivy and white stephanotis. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue lace A-line gown, with matching blue hat and slippers and elbow-length gloves. Her shoulder corsage was of white carnations with blue ribbon streamers matching her other accessories.

The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lummie Stewart, wore a dark blue and white floral frock, with a shoulder corsage of white carnations with white ribbon and white gloves.

Mrs. Gary Baggett, former classmate of the bride, presided at the register.

The rehearsal dinner was held at 8 p. m. Saturday evening at Davy Crockett Hotel in Union City.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the church social room. Assisting Mrs. Clifford Joyner in serving were Mrs. Charles Griswold, aunt of the bride, Miss Marjorie Anna Griswold, Mrs. Robert Lucy, Mrs. Jerry Graham, and Mrs. James Sanger, all cousins of the bride.

The bride tossed her bouquet from the stair rail and it was caught by Miss Priscilla Elam, her maid of honor.

Rice bags of pink satin tied with white ribbon, were given out by the bride's cousins, Charles Frederick and William Edward Griswold.

For going away, the bride wore a lace over matching pink with high rounded neckline and wrist-length raglan sleeves, which she made for the occasion, and a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

During their honeymoon the couple will visit with her parents before leaving for their home in Beaufort, S. C., where the groom is stationed with the Marine Corps Air Station. Their address will be P.O. Box 652, Beaufort, S. C. 29902.

Among the pre-nuptial parties honoring the bride was a dinner in the cafeteria of the defense depot given by her co-workers.

MYSTERIOUS MOONBOW

By night, when the moon is full, the mist from Cumberland Falls shows a mysterious moonbow, one of two such phenomena on earth. There is nothing like it in the Western world; for the other moonbow is in Africa.

Bridal Tea Given For Miss Bolin

—Mrs. L. M. McBride and Mrs. Bob Brown and their daughters, Miss Brenda McBride and Miss Barbara Brown, were hostesses to a tea given in honor of Miss Carlie Lou Bolin of Fulton, who will be married, Sept. 1, to James Thomas Powers of Hickman.

Guests called between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McBride on Eddings St.

For the occasion the McBride home was beautifully decorated throughout with arrangements of yellow daisies, surprise lilies and magnolias.

Miss Bolin wore a powder blue frock trimmed in white with white accessories and a corsage of yellow daisies, a gift from the hostesses.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. McBride. In the receiving line were Mrs. Cecil Bolin, mother of the bride, Miss Bolin, the honoree, and Mrs. E. Z. Powers of Hickman, mother of the groom.

Agents of political candidates are allowed to be present at polling places in Great Britain.

Support For Wallace Nags Both Parties

George Wallace's growing muscle in public opinion polls is matched by increasing concern in both major parties over his potential impact on the presidential election.
Republicans, regarded at this stage as most likely to suffer from a big Wallace vote, appear to be the most concerned.
But Democrats are worried too, that the former Alabama governor could grab off enough Electoral College votes to toss the election into the House of Representatives.
Wallace, in campaign speeches, has been gleeful at the prospect.
With the exception of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, the major candidates of both parties have had little or nothing to say publicly on the possibilities.
A bipartisan move to neutralize the effect of a big Wallace showing has been launched by Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., and Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.
They plan to set up a steering committee next week to spearhead a drive for pledges by candidates for election to the House and Senate for the presidential election who wins the greatest popular vote.

IC To Bid For Entire TC RR

NASHVILLE — The Illinois Central Railroad, which had offered to buy part of the bankrupt Tennessee Central Railroad, now is preparing to bid for the entire TC line.
Lester Burch, Memphis lawyer representing the IC, said Tuesday the railroad would be ready with written offers to be presented Thursday to U.S. Dist. Court Judge William E. Miller.
The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has offered to buy the entire TC line, but the IC previously had offered only to buy the Hopkinsville-Nashville link of the TC.
"While our railroad would prefer that the L&N or some other railroad operate the Nashville-Hickman eastern section of the line, we will be ready with an offer for the entire line," Burch said.
The offer by the IC for the 287-mile full length of the Tennessee Central reportedly would be about $1.1 million. It would top the L&N offer by a few thousand dollars.
However, other issues, particularly the fate of more than 300 TC employees, are expected

Carnival Workers Jailed At Clinton

Three carnival workers were lodged in the Hickman County jail today after being returned here from Ripley, Tenn., on a charge of grand larceny.
Hickman County Sheriff Willis Jackson returned Carl Bowman, Jim Lacy and Jim Robertson to Clinton about 2 p.m. He said the trio would remain in custody until a preliminary hearing on the charge of grand larceny Monday at 2 p.m. The hearing will be held before Hickman County Judge E. H. Padgett.
Sheriff Jackson said the men were arrested Friday by Ripley police. They were picked up on a warrant signed by Percy Headly, manager of the carnival for which the men worked. Headly alleged the three men took $256 in silver from his truck.
The sheriff said the men denied taking the money, but were found to have $108 in silver in their possession at the time of their arrest.
Sheriff Jackson said Bowman was 28 and a resident of Senath, Mo.; Robertson, also 28, listed his home as Temple, Tex., while Lacy, 23, said his home was Juno, Alaska.
South Fulton voters will elect the City Commissioners in the city election on Tuesday, September 3 from the four candidates announced, John Reeks, Clyde Stinson, Elmer Mansfield and Dr. Dan Crocker.

Billy Graham Film Will Be A Free Attraction At State Fair

New to this year's Kentucky State Fair, August 15-24, will be a blazing Technicolor motion picture, Billy Graham's "Man In The Fifth Dimension." This will be a free attraction on the independent midway of the State Fair. This spectacular motion picture was one of the highlights of the New York World's Fair in 1964-1965 and was seen by a million Fair visitors.

This powerful movie was filmed on many locations around the world. Such stirring scenes as the famed ruins of Greece, Jerusalem, Calvary, Sea of Galilee, Mount of Ascension, California redwoods, and distant galaxies of outer space will carry the viewer to many worlds.

Walnut Street Baptist Church of Louisville, Kentucky is making possible the daily showing of this world renowned motion picture. To serve as a theatre, they are providing a giant air-conditioned tent, located on the midway. Free showings of the film will be every hour, on the hour throughout the nine days of the Fair.

REV. BILLY GRAHAM

This is the first time in the history of the Kentucky State Fair for a Billy Graham movie to be included in the list of the many happenings and events.

Couple Unhurt As Car Kills Pony On 45-E

A young Fulton housewife and her husband escaped injuries early last Friday morning when their car struck a pony about two miles south of Fulton on U. S. 45-E.

Mrs. Joan R. Weaver of Fulton Route 3 was driving toward Martin in a 1965 Mustang when the pony ran onto the highway and was struck by the right front of the auto. The pony was killed and damage to the car was estimated at $350, according to a State Trooper who investigated the accident.

Mrs. Weaver was taking her husband to Martin, where he was scheduled to meet other members of his National Guard unit and depart that morning for two weeks active duty training at Ft. Stewart, Ga.

Passing friends got him there on time.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

U.C. Leaders Favor Single School System

A single school system to serve both Union City and Obion County? This subject has been discussed by Union City officials informally for some time now and, during Monday's special session of the Obion County Court, the subject came up when Magistrate Clifford Joyner Jr. suggested it might be the answer for problems facing both systems.

Both City Manager David Frizzell and Union City Mayor James L. Rippey agreed today that, personally, they felt the two systems should be combined.

"The main thing of importance is the child, whether he lives in Hornbeak or on First Street. He is the one who is paying the price and we need to think of him," Mr. Frizzell said today.

Mr. Frizzell said he felt that all special school districts, such as Union City, should be eliminated and that there should be a single county school system.

He said that separately, neither Union City High School nor Obion County Central can offer a well-rounded program because neither has a sufficient number of students to justify the diversified curriculum which is demanded in this day and time.

"I think a combined system would create a high school with a large enough student body to make possible this diversified curriculum," Mr. Frizzell said.

Both Mr. Frizzell and Mayor Rippey feel that many more technical and trade courses need to be offered. They feel that an academic program should be offered to students who desire to enter college, while a second program should be offered to students who wish to enter some trade following high school. A trade school, which offers courses in auto mechanics, sheet metal, drafting, welding, business machines and the like, they maintain, would prepare students so they can go directly into industry upon completion of high school.

The two officials believe that the only way this could be accomplished would be to combine the systems.

"A school with 100 members in its senior class cannot offer as many subjects as one with say 250 or 300 seniors," Mayor Rippey said.

According to Mr. Frizzell, state law provides that in such a consolidation of systems, the standard of the highest system must be used as a minimum standard.

Two New VISTA Volunteers Need Places To Stay

Two VISTA volunteers, working in the Fulton area for the next year, are having a problem finding a suitable place to live. Anyone who can offer any help to these two is urged to contact them through the OEO office in Clinton.

The two are:

Margo Addison, whose home is in Baton Rouge, and who will be located in Fulton for the next year setting up day care center, a continuation of the head start program.

Jim Seiback, a native of Sacramento, Calif., who is assisting in the erection of new homes and the repairing of older homes.

Both of these persons are already in Fulton at work. Each would like to find either a small apartment or a room in a private home with kitchen privileges.

VISTA members (Volunteers in Service to America - domestic Peace Corps) are paid a minimum salary of $90 a month by the Federal government, and they receive no pay from those whom they assist.

A SHORT STORY!

Not a story in the usual sense... nevertheless, it's one we think is of interest to you. Our story is about

A&P's short-cut, 7-inch, oven-ready Ribs of Beef, and the fact that we remove the excess Short Ribs and sell them separately at the lower Short Rib price. That's not all, though.

We remove the excess wasteful chine bone.

For easier carving, we remove the feather (back) bones and cover the area with a thin layer of fat to protect the meat.

As a matter of fact, on an average five-rib roast we trim up to 1 1/2 lbs. of excess fat and bone.

At rib roast prices, that adds up.

Another thing that keeps you from being short-changed on value:

A&P Rib Roasts are cut from the first five ribs only.

Our short story even has a happy ending...

your family will enjoy every morsel.

That's guaranteed...or your money back.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts. This is our land. Let's treat it right.

Wanda Samples Leaves For State Pageant At Fair

Miss Wanda Faye Samples, recently crowned Miss Hickman-Fulton RECC of 1968, will leave Monday to participate in the Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation Beauty Pageant which will be held August 19-21. The well-known beauty pageant is held annually as a part of the Kentucky State Fair.

She will spend the three days of the contest in Louisville and will compete for the coveted Miss KRECC title, along with twenty-one other beauties from throughout Kentucky. Winner of the Miss KRECC crown will represent the rural electric cooperatives of Kentucky at the National Contest in Atlantic City, New Jersey, early in 1969.

Wanda earned the honor to represent Hickman-Fulton RECC in the state finals by winning the Queen's title at Hickman-Fulton annual membership meeting which was held July 25. Runner-up in the beauty contest was Miss Betty Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Morris, of Route 4, Clinton, Kentucky.

Poverty Programs To Be Aired Again

CLINTON, Ky. —The Clinton City Council will discuss further the future of the town's poverty programs in its next meeting later this month, officials reported today.

According to Mayor Kaylor Austin, nearly 200 people attended a meeting at the Kane Community Center here Monday night to discuss the confusion caused by city and county votes on the programs.

The City Council voted 3-0 Thursday against continuing the programs, but several weeks ago the Hickman County Fiscal Court voted 4-3 to continue them in the county after hearing testimony at a public hearing overwhelmingly in favor of the programs.

The validity of the City Council vote originally was in doubt because three Council members at Thursday's meeting abstained from voting. However, Mayor Austin asked Hickman County Atty. Jack Roberts for his legal interpretation of the vote.

According to the mayor, Roberts found a 1956 attorney general's ruling which stated that when "voting on a motion by a fifth class city council with a 3-0 vote and three abstentions, the motion carries."

Members of the local Community Action Group (CAG) and other poor people's representatives asked the City Council to reconsider Thursday's vote at the meeting Monday night.

Attending the two-hour meeting in addition to CAG members were staff members of the Mississippi River Area Economic Opportunity Council, Mayor Austin and Dr. Robert Jackson of the City Council. Other members of the Council reportedly had prior commitments.

The mayor, in talking of the poverty program situation here, said that there has been a "lack of understanding and communication" between the poor people, the Community Office and the City Council. He noted that he hopes the misunderstanding between groups can be resolved by further discussion.

ASC Committeemen Seek Nominees

Any person, if found to be eligible and willing to serve, if elected, may be added by petition. Petitions must be: Limited to one nominee each; signed by at least 6 eligible voters in the community, (eligible voters may sign as many petitions as they desire); and received at the county office by August 22, 1968.

"Community Committeemen should always be the farmers who can best represent their neighbor," says Roy Bard, County Committee Chairman.

QUALITY FORAGE

REGULATES PROFITS

High quality forage is the most economical part of all rations. The lack of quality, however, keeps many farmers from getting the full benefit of this all important item. The feeding value of top quality roughage is much higher than that which is over ripe or has cured too long. The higher the quality of any forage, the easier its digestibility as well as supplying 75% to 80% of the nutrients cattle require.

All too often supplemental grain is fed to overcome the deficiencies of a low quality hay, pasture, or silage. In this case, grain becomes the major portion of the ration with roughage being the supplement rather than the reverse which should be normal.

Farmers should make every effort to get as many pounds of a marketable product as possible from forage crops, after which they should consider feeding whatever grain necessary to reach the animal's maximum potential production. The importance of quality hay and pasture is not lessened by the current interest in high grain rations for cattle. Roughage is the backbone of the livestock industry. If we have a weak forage program, likewise, our agribusiness is also weakened and the farmers production cost begin to raise. It is very easy to see the importance of having a high quality hay, pasture and silage.

In feeding any quality hay, it is best NOT to grind the forage. I think most all University experiment stations have at one time or another worked an experiment on hay grinding. Cattle and sheep can grind their hay much cheaper than the mill and will do well while accomplishing the feat. I know of millers here in our community who put off buying hay grinding equipment until forced to by livestock owners who just had to have the hay in the ration. Well, if you would put the cost of grinding into protein concentrate the ration would make you more net profit in the end. If a poor quality had fed, the cow then has to digest it and this takes energy (more hay or even grain). If the hay were not ground the chances are she would not even eat it. This is forced feeding and is proven unprofitable.

No one hay making system will work on every farm, but the plan that will yield the most nutrients should be adopted. In other words, sacrifice pounds for top quality. With new hay making equipment, it is not possible to get the most out of the hay field. The Kentucky Farmstead Mechanization Exposition at Hopkinsville had on exhibit a machine that they claimed would make it possible to cure Sudan or other tough to handle supplemental pastures for hay. Remember quality not quantity makes high profits!

CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

(Last Week)

This area is more in need of rain at this time than at any time before during this year. A very fine crop seems to be maturing very satisfactorily.

Mrs. Durrell Terrell has returned from a visit to her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Jones and Randy, in Louisiana.

A large number of relatives and friends attended the beautiful wedding of Judy Oliver and Dennis Suter, at the South Fulton Church Sunday afternoon. Best wishes are extended to them.

The protracted meeting is in progress this week at Sandy Branch with service at 8 p. m. each evening. Bro. Thomas is doing the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Guayon Brundige and Robert, from Stanford, Ky. are vacationing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brundige, and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons, at Dresden, also with other relatives in this area.

Mrs. Ellen Brown, from Murray, and Mrs. Ellen Vowell, from Martin, were Sunday dinner guests with Mrs. Elnora Vaughan, after attending Sunday School at New Hope and preaching at Sandy Branch. The regular preaching service at New Hope was cancelled, due to Bro. Joseph being a patient in the Murray Hospital following surgery.

Everyone is invited to the service at Oak Grove Sunday, which will be the last appointment of Bro. Woodson, who has preached there the past six years. At this time they are moving to New Orleans, where he will go to school. A basket lunch will be served at noon. Bro. Jim Cannon will present a series of gospel services the following week, to which everyone is invited.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS E. STAM, PRES.
BIBLICAL BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

CAN THE TEN COMMANDMENTS SAVE?

St. Paul pointed out a basic Scriptural—and logical—truth, when he said: "For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified" (Rom. 2:13).

Many people suppose that God gave us the ten commandments to help us to be good. The fact is, however, that He gave them to show us that we are bad. Rom. 3:20, 5:20; Gal. 3:19 and a dozen other Bible passages teach this clearly.

How can the law be of any advantage to a law-breaker? How can it justify us unless we keep it—perfectly?

Do you recall the woman caught in adultery, in John 8? She was a Jewess. She was better off than the Gentiles, for she had the law of Moses, but this didn't justify her; it condemned her.

So her "advantage" turned out to be a serious disadvantage, for "not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified."

James 1:22-24 says that one who knows the law but doesn't obey it, is like a man looking into a mirror, seeing his dirty face, and then walking away without doing anything about it.

This is why Rom. 2:14,15 declares that the consciences of the heathen confirm what the law says, "their thoughts the meanwhile accusing, or else excusing one another."

Those in heathen lands know that it is wrong to lie and steal and commit adultery, yet they know nothing about the law of God, or the ten commandments. How, then, do they know that these things are wrong? God made them with this knowledge; He gave to them a conscience, a sense of blameworthiness in doing wrong.

Every man has this inner sense, though his conscience may become seared. It is common experience for men's consciences to trouble them; "their thoughts" either "accusing or else excusing one another."

How good to know the One who has paid the penalty for our sins so that our hearts may be "cleansed from an evil conscience" (Heb. 10:22). "Christ died for our sins" (1 Cor. 15:3). "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

of heroes

It's pretty exhausting to have two big brothers that excel in everything! Of course, there are advantages. Like the time a bully beat me up—my brothers followed me to school for two weeks. They wouldn't have fought him, but he didn't know that. Every night they worked out with me. Finally, I took him on and won.

My brothers are first-rate in everything — studies and athletics. There's nothing wishy-washy about them—if they don't think something's right, they say so. When there was a "walk-out" at school, they squashed it, practically single-handed.

Because our parents have always taken us to church and taught us God's way, my brothers are strong-principled and good. I aim to be like them. Your church is a training ground for integrity!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Salvador, I remarked that it mattered little that some individuals in Central America knew no English at all, but that they did know when and how to use American slang and colloquialisms. Whereupon he related a fabulous story. Said he:

At a high level conference attended by the highest officials of all Central American countries it was proposed that the first step needed to retain the independence and character of their individual countries was to stop using American slang, and especially the word "Okay."

The suggestion was received enthusiastically and the mechanics proposed to make American slang taboo, consider it immoral and to further look upon such use as treasonable.

A resolution was passed with all the pomp and ceremony of dignity. Knowing that the decision to out-law American slang would be unanimous, a voice vote was taken.

Said the chairman in the highest form of proper Spanish: "It is agreed now that the use of American slang is against the dignity of our country's language. We will now have your approval of this solemn resolution. What is your pleasure that it be passed?"

Came the loud response . . . "Okay, Okay, Okay!!" Senor Algara says it's an honest to goodness true story.

When Vivienne de Solis of San Jose, Costa Rica was here for the Festival last year, she made me promise that if I ever visited in her country that I would certainly call her.

And that I tried to do! But Mrs. de Solis is married and her husband's name I did not know. I could not find it listed in the directory under her given name. There are many de Solis' in the phone book and I simply did not know where to start.

But it was a lovely lady at the Tourist Commission who said she knew Mrs. de Solis, called her for me, and of course Vivienne returned the call.

Unfortunately our schedule did not permit a personal visit, but we had a wonderful telephone chat. Her husband left on Saturday for Germany, where he will do some special studies in economics. He is a distinguished professor of same. Vivienne has been given a high honor and distinguished assignment to do some special teaching in the university there. Of course she asked to be remembered to everybody, especially to Jean and Ruby Boyd Poe.

To-geese-a-golper—

a very cordial reception and again we were very fruitful in our endeavors. The result: Miss Guatemala is coming to the festival.

Meanwhile back at the hotel, we relaxed and gathered our strength for the trip the following day. However, the evening was only beginning. First, there was an official reception for Miss Guatemala, then came the explaining to her about the festival through a translator. Our Spanish was enough to communicate, but we thought it best to use an interpreter. After the reception, Mom, Col. Price, and I were guests of the Oliver Sauses. He is head of Central American Affairs for the State Department.

Back to the hotel for a good night's rest—or was it? It is rather difficult to sleep when you are in a foreign country, but what is even more disturbing is the fact that when you finally get to sleep you don't even know where you are.

Wednesday we flew to San Salvador, El Salvador. Again

we met with customs. When we left the airport for our hotel, the ride is what discouraged us all. The airport is far enough from the city as it is, but the hotel Inter-Continental, where we stayed, is on the opposite side of the city, about 30 kilometers away, about 18 American miles.

The ball was rolling and mother contacted a man who helped us in our venture. The three of us were becoming experts at this now and we managed to have Miss El Salvador as a guest of the festival.

About this time in the week, the three of us were getting very tired of travelling and it looked as if we could not possibly make the other countries in the remaining days. But, there is an old saying, "the difficult can be done immediately, but the impossible takes five minutes." We were off again!

We got into Managua, Nicaragua on Thursday and immediately went to the Gran Hotel, where we began making preparations for getting the lovely beauty queen of that country. Our meeting at 8:00 P. M. lasted only one hour and a few odd minutes, but we struck paydirt and our list grew to four. Not bad for four days work, eh?

We could not do any sight-seeing, because of the time element, but I can tell you that these countries are very beautiful. Most of them are nestled in the Sierra-Madre mountains of Central America. Most of them are in valleys with the mountains around them. Anyway, even if we saw nothing more of these countries than the scenery from the airport to the hotel, I can say that if the countries are in anyway indicative of that scenery, then they are well-worth seeing.

Where was I? Oh yes, in Nicaragua. Friday morning we flew to Costa Rica and again customs started our day off wrong for everyone concerned. The redeeming feature of that country was its scenic beauty and the friendliness of the people. But we had little or no time for that.

We barely got settled when that busy-beaver of a mother of mine arranged a meeting for us with, who else, Miss Costa Rica. Hope springs eternal, and now we have five Central American beauty queens coming to this year's festival.

Saturday morning, we flew to Tegucigalpa, Honduras for yet another round of talks. We were detained in that city (I dare not write it again) and didn't leave there until Sunday morning. What happened to Miss Honduras? She's coming, too.

Now comes the most exciting and scenic part of the whole journey: it was to plan for coming home. We left "To-geese-a-golper" and flew into San Salvador. We had to change planes there and flew to Guatemala City. We had a six hour lay-over and instead of staying at the airport, we went back to the Guatemala Biltmore for the sunshine. It was relaxing, but, for the most part, we couldn't wait to get stationary in some city for more than twenty-four hours.

We finally got on a TACA Jet and flew back to New Orleans, with only one stop, in Belize, Honduras.

Let's review the situation of the past week. Seven countries in seven days, seven different currencies, and nine airplanes on five different airlines.

If you have any idea of traveling to Central America, let me give you a few tips on international banking. These are the currencies of the various countries and their American values: Mexico - peso, 8c; Guatemala - quetzal, $1.00; San Salvador - colon, 40c; Nicaragua - cordova, 14c; Costa Rica - colon (again), 13c; Honduras - limpera, 50c. Now, if you don't think that can be a problem, just imagine what it would be like to have seven different kinds of money in your pocket at the same time.

We got to New Orleans on Sunday night and spent the night there. Monday, mom and I (Col. Price had left for Miami on Sunday morning) went to the French Quarter for a while and then left for Fulton. On the way back, we stopped in Clarksdale for a short visit with some relatives, then drove back to Fulton, arriving at 4 a. m. Tuesday. We drove from New Orleans to Fulton in one day and, as I am writing this today, Tuesday, I can hardly keep my eyes open.

I can promise you that this year's sixth International Banana Festival will be the biggest and best in the festival's short history, largely thanks to the efforts of Mrs. Paul Westpheling (mom) and Col. Mercer Lee Price. I can not ask praise for my mother, per se, but for a civic-minded and hard-working lady, who is interested in the future of this festival. As for Colonel Price, the only thing that I can say is that this man, who is president of the Price Foundation, took time out from his busy schedule to help the citizens of this community succeed in building this international program.

Make your preparations now to attend the festival on September 4-7. Hasta La Vista!

Southern Hospitality Goes Latin-American

When Fulton, and South Fulton celebrate their sixth International Banana Festival, September 4-7, they will be extending their famous Southern hospitality to students and dignitaries from Latin America.

The twin cities of Fulton, Kentucky and South Fulton, Tennessee have been making plans for the festivities and rehearsing their Spanish ever since last year's Festival. Although it's 2,000 miles from the nearest banana plantation, the Kentucky town has a definite interest in the fruit, for thousands of carloads of bananas are re-iced in Fulton every year and distributed to the far corners of the nation.

A midway, and the arts and crafts displays, will open Wednesday, Sept. 4, and will continue throughout the fiesta. A new feature of the annual festival will be an antique show and sale Thursday and Friday. An Inter-American Music Fiesta is to be presented Thursday night at Kitty League Park with the Guatemala Army Marimba Band as the main feature of the show; it will also play at other functions during the festival.

Friday has been declared Governor's Day and will include tours of the exhibits and banana and pie eating contests. An International Relations Program will be at 2 p. m. in Kitty League Park, and at 7:30 p. m. the Princess Pageant preliminaries will be held in the Fulton High School auditorium. Some 30 contestants, appearing in both bathing suits and evening dresses, will be interviewed. They will be judged on poise, beauty, and personality; the winner will spend a week in Ecuador and receive a scholarship award.

Saturday will see a parade at 10:30 a. m. and the world's largest banana pudding will be served at noon in the City Park. The Princess Pageant finals will be held at 7:30 Saturday evening, and the winner will be crowned at the Princess Dance at 9:30.

Throughout the festival, hundreds of bananas will be consumed and thousands of people will be making new friends.

Take It From Me

Six thousand two hundred and seventy five copies of the FULTON SHOPPER are being read in 6,275 homes in Fulton, South Fulton and throughout the Twin-Cities' trade area this morning.

Approximately 25,100 people will be motivated to come to the Twin Cities to do their buying this weekend because the pages of the Fulton NEWS-SHOPPER are filled with all kinds of attractively-priced merchandise, be it groceries, furniture, drugs, shoes, ready-to-wear, appliances, used cars or real estate.

Never Have I Seen Such Value

The FULTON SHOPPER has been established to help twin cities' merchants widen their trade area. It goes into over three thousand homes each week that do not subscribe to a Fulton paper. If you have something to advertise, let the Fulton SHOPPER prove its worth to you.
